Guisti Sobs Over Murder Of Sweetheart

Spurned Lover Recites Events Preceding Singer's Death

Bewildered by his deed and sobbing hysterically, Umberto Guisti, 37, San Francisco cleaning plant employe, Tuesday old his story of the shooting of his sweetheart, Miss Emilia Da Prato, 27-year-old South San Francisco singer.

Highly emotional after a restless night in the county jail during which he refused to partake of food or allow himself any sleep, Guisti was taken before District Attorney Edmund Scott for two hours of questioning this morning.

He talked freely of his deed, but he wept throughout the whole proceeding. He wrung his hands as he looked with bewildered eyes at his questioners, Scott, Sheriff James J. McGrath and Police Chief Louis Belloni.

Guisti repeated that it was his intention to kill himself, but in a sudden rage brought on by his sweetheart's decision that "she would do as she pleased," he fired the three shots that took her life.

"We had promised to be lovers until eternity," he sobbed.. "Then she told me that we would have to part.

"I was unable to sleep for nine nights. I bought a gun, intending to shoot myself. I raised the gun to my head.

"But at that moment, she slammed the door in my face. Something snapped in my mind. Mother of God, I don't know what came over me.

"I opened the door and fired. I am awfully sorry."

Guisti said that he met the girl four years ago at a house party in San Francisco. —She wanted to break into opera, he said, and he promised to help her. She did secure some concert work in Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, but did not make the progress that the family believed she should, he said.

She apparently had been content and in love with him until the current opera season opened in San Francisco, Guisti told Scott. Then she met Alesandro Anini, who had a brother in New York connected with the opera there and who probably could help her. She decided to go to the East. Guisti agreed that she could go—if she married him first.

Supervisors Decline Test For Charter

Legality of Method of 'At Large' Vote Questioned

Efforts by Supervisor Albert Witt of Colma to have the county board seek a two-barreled opinion on the legality of an important provision of the new San Mateo county charter affecting the supervisors had met with failure Monday.

The provision is that calling for a change from the district plan of electing supervisors to the "at large" balloting approved by the voters.

Certain members of the board are of the opinion that the alternative provisions of the charter, because fewer persons voted for it than voted for the charter, is illegal.

Witt Wants Rulings

Witt wanted the board to instruct District Attorney Edmund Scott to render an opinion on the legality of the provision and also to seek a companion opinion from Attorney General U. S. Webb. His motion, however, failed to secure a second.

Scott expressed an opinion that Webb would not give a ruling on the question at this time as it is "not at issue." It will remain a moot question, he said, until the eve of an election, when the decision as to whether the supervisors should be elected at large or by districts would be of vital consequence.

Scott also told the board that it had no legal right to ask the opinion, which could only be secured on a request of County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, who is in charge of elections and therefore the only interested party.

Such an opinion, however, will likely not be asked by Hinman, who said he was satisfied that the the alternative provision was legal and that the voters wanted the supervisors elected at large. Unless he has a change of 'conviction, Hinman said definitely that he was not interested in any opinion on the question.

Scott's Advice

Scott advised the supervisors that they should not take any adverse positions on the charter, but should look upon it as the organic law of the county and legal as it stands until the courts establish otherwise.

The failure to get an opinion from Scott or Webb will be followed up, it is believed, by an attempt to bring an injunction against the charter next August on the eve of the primary election.

This move will be designed to block the "at large" vote in the next primary so that it will not affect the supervisors running at that time.

GRADE CROSSING SURVEY SOUGHT BY CONFERENCE

Removal of Needless Danger Spots Aim of Peninsula Group

IN THE unnecessary and little used grade crossing lies the same hidden danger that is stored up in the "unloaded" gun.

Cognizant of this, the Peninsula Grade Crossing Conference at a meeting in the Community House in Palo Alto last night went on record to ask the California Railroad Commission to make an immediate survey of grade crossings between the cities of San Mateo and Redwood City.

The conference was revived last week co-incident with the movement launched a few days ago to speed rail transportation on the peninsula.

The last meeting of the conference, which was organized in Palo Alto in 1930, was held on March 11, 1932.

In reply to a query as to why no meeting had been held since that time, Acting Chairman C. H. Christensen of Palo Alto declared that the president of the conference, Prof. W. F. Durand of Stanford University, felt that little could be achieved because of the economic stress affecting the railroads and city and state governments.

Is Key Question

Hugh Pomeroy, advisor to the planning commissions of San Mateo and Santa Clara counties, spoke on the subject of grade crossings and reported that safe passage over railroad tracks was the key question in highway studies.

He said that the planning commissions were making a study of the conference's technical report submitted in February, 1931, and was bringing these findings up to date.

There was no comprehensive highway program at that time as there is now, Pomeroy said, and crossings which were then deemed useless and unnecessary may today be important, while others then considered necessary may now be little used, he said.

Pomeroy was asked to make a study of the technical report and also of the railroad commission's findings submitted to the 1933 legislature and to report to the conference what was learned about grade crossings in the two counties.

Must Separate Grades

Pomeroy declared that grade separations will be necessary if the goal of faster trains for the peninsula is to be reached.

The speaker said that the railroad commission was given new powers by the last legislature to come into communities and close crossings which the cities feared to close because of pressure exerted by local interests.

Because of this new power, the decision to ask the railroad commission for a study of local crossings was reached upon motion of Mrs. Mona Christiansen, and the hope of the conference is that some of the useless crossings may thus be eliminated.

On motion of H. H. Hewitt of San Mateo, the conference authorized T. L. Chess of San Mateo, chairman of the educational committee, to proceed with the movement to have arterial signs installed at all grade crossings as a safety move.

Endorses Movement

William H. Kelly of Palo Alto told the conference of the movement on foot to speed peninsula transportation. He said that heretofore the communities of the peninsula have been satisfied with the service of the railroad because it satisfactorily met the competition of other areas because of the slow passage across the bay.

With the completion of the bridges, however, he said the service will prove inadequate and faster trains must be had or the peninsula will suffer greatly.

The conference, on motion of

Witte Elected To Head Realty Board Monday

The Redwood City District Real Estate Board, at a luncheon in the Fox Shoppe Monday, elected Henry Witte to be its president in 1934. He will succeed Emmett Donnelly.

Other officers will be Daniel Stafford, vice-president, and Merritt R. Hosmer, secretary-treasurer.

Optimism over the outlook for 1934 was expressed by the realtors, and plans were made for pushing their business.

GIVEN 5-DAY TERM

BURLINGAME, Dec. 18. — Edward Talmon, 50, painter, of 733 California drive, was given a 5-day term in the county jail today by Police Judge Stanley Kelly for battery. Theodore A. Meisner complained to police that Talmon struck him with a water tap during an argument.

Duck Hunters Return With Fine String

Emmett Main, the genial proprietor of the Main Service Station at the Highway and Brewster street in this city, and Claude Fox, our short story writer, spent last Sunday at the Willow Creek Gun Club near Newman, and as both are crack wing shots, it was not surprising when they returned with the finest bunch of wild geese and ducks seen in this city during the present season.

Eight geese and 24 ducks constituted their string, which consisted of mallards, sprig, widgeon, teal, gadwell and spoonbill.

Fox, speaking for Mr. Main and himself, said to a reporter of this paper: "We certainly had a fine trip and returned home more than satisfied. Personally I have had a prejudice against shooting at commercial clubs by reason of the treatment received at one of these clubs a few years ago in company with the Bullwant boys, Henry and Eddie, but I wish to go on record right now in saying that I will take off my hat to the Willow Creek Gun Club, is proprietor, Chas. Clark, his excellent wife, daughter and son-in-law, not forgetting the obliging cook who looked after the wants of the inner man and the able assistants Mr. Clark employs to look out for the hunters.

"Thirteen thousand acres comprise the club's domain, which is dotted with 150 small lakes. The weather was cold, snow capping the mountains to the east and west, but it was that sharp bracing air that a duck hunter loves, and flocks of geese and ducks dotted the sky from daybreak to dark.

"Yes sir, I will take off my hat twice to Mr. Clark for the way he conducts his club and the personal interest he took in each of the 75 hunters who participated in last Sunday's shoot. Any person who loves wild ducks and goose shooting as I do will surely visit the Willow Creek Gun Club and when you have grasped the hand of Chas Clark you will want to go back once more and shake that right hand again."

ATHERTON POLICE CHIEF WOULD LIST VIOLATORS

Official Notices in Newspapers Seen As Way to Curb Tag Fixing

BECAUSE of the belief that publication of the names of all traffic violators will prove a deterrent and aid the peninsula safety campaign, Police Chief John E. Farrell of Atherton proposed a program to the Redwood City Lions Club at its meeting last night which the club unanimously adopted.

The plan calls for all arrest cases to be publicized in regular legal form, and for a second publication to show the disposition of the cases.

This plan would relieve judges of considerable "embarrassment," Chief Farrell said.

Publication of the cases would be required by city and county ordinances and no case, no matter how minor, would escape.

The club named a committee of three to draft the proposed ordinance for submission to the supervisors and the city council. This committee consists of Norman S. Menifee, Wayne R. Millington and Hans Jepson.

Farrell explained the plan to the club as follows:

"This club has undertaken 'traffic safety' as a major activity. That it has done so shows that the members realize the seriousness of the traffic situation, particularly as it concerns San Mateo county. In connection with our campaign there are naturally many angles to be considered carefully as they affect the present hazards along the highways.

"But, regardless of the argument that may be waged over many of the points raised, there is one thing on which, I am positive, there is agreement. That is the need for eliminating laxity in and disregard for traffic law enforcement. And I wish to propose to the Lions Club as an effective opening gun in its campaign a plan that strikes directly at this one thing. Action, as well as discussion and study, is what we are interested in.

"The plan that I propose is that the names of traffic law violators, the charges against them and the final disposition of their cases as they occur, be published by ordinance just as now the tax delinquency list, special assessments and so on are required to be published in the newspapers by ordinance of the city or county.

"There are three big reasons in favor of this plan that strike me as making it effective not only temporarily as might be the case

Merry Christmas to You

The Times-Gazette takes this opportunity to wish its many friends and readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Notwithstanding the depression, the paper received its share of business during the year for which we are thankful. All indications point that the coming year will be a prosperous one and that the end of the hard times is here.

Nearly all the unemployed have been put to work in the different enterprises about the bay so that much money has been placed in circulation. Merchants feel happy over the large volume of business done during the past weeks when shoppers spent freely, but conservatively, in the stores of this city. We have much to be thankful for and hopes are high that the appoaching year will be a happy one for all.

Menlo Park

Mrs. Susie Logan Segur, wife of Clyde Segur, died at her home in Los Altos after an illenss of a year. Mrs. Segur is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Frances M. Logan, and her brother, James B. Logan. Mrs. George Nunn and Mrs. Cora Parker were her aunts. Private funeral services will be held Friday morning.

Mayor W. H. Weeden accompanied his daughter, Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, rehabilitation chairman of the American Legion auxiliary, to the United States Veterans' Hospital Tuesday, and participated in the Christmas program. Mrs Lindquist arranged for the patients. The program consisted of community singing, Christmas carols by Gene Bone, accordion solos by P. Penna, vocal solos by Eddie Sunderlove, a patient; a group of songs by a quartet composed of patients who accompanied themselves on the "uke," and solos by Miss Robinson, recreational executive.

Cigarettes, pop-corn balls, homemade candies and cakes were served by the ladies of the auxiliary.

There will be an unsual candlelight musical program at the Presbyterian Church Sunday at 7:30. There will be singing by a special guest choir, Ray Tinney will play miramba solos as well as sing with the special choir.

choir choir choir choir choir choir

Mr. and Mrs. deLancy Lewis will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lewis, their sons and their wives, over the Christmas holidays.

Belle Haven post of the American Legion will hold a Boy Scouts' Court of Honor at their Belle Haven Legion hall Friday at 7 p. m. Following it will be a Christmas tree for the children of the community. Santa Claus will be there in person.

Wild pigeons are numerous on the Flood estate and adjoining properties. The birds are protected by the federal government and cannot be killed, although the farmers would be delighted to shoot them as the pigeon is very destructive to fields that have just been planted. Last year whole crops about the lower bay region were destroyed.

Redwood City 30 Years Ago

Dr. Harvey Ross of North San Juan, Nevada county, is here to spend the holidays with relatives.

James D. Hedge, who has mining interests in the northern part of the state, surprised his parents Saturday by paying them a visit. He has been away since August and has seen a good deal of different life than he was accustomed to here. He will leave for his mine today.

A baby girl about 6 years old was found in a basket placed in a buggy near the old school house in the north end of town yesterday morning. The baby was turned over to the sheriff's office.

Roy W. Cloud and Sophie H. Kobelt were married at Oakland on Thursday by the Rev. Marr, formerly of this city. This announcement will be quite a surprise to their many friends in this city, as not the slightest intimation of the happy event was given their most intimate acquaintances. Mr. Cloud has been connected with this office for some time as reporter. After returning from their honeymoon next Wednesday, Mr. Cloud will resume his studies at Stanford University.

Hewitt, went on record supporting the plan for speedier rail service.

It was agreed, on motion of Chess, that the conference should hold meetings at least every 90 days.

Those Attending

Those present included C. H. Christensen, acting chairman; Frances Pering, secretary; W. L. Peet and William H. Kelly, all of Palo Alto; Mayor William J. Dusel, City Manager Ernest Rolison, Dr. Robert Frazier, Mrs. E. L. Kilbourne and William Vielhauer, all of Redwood City; Mrs. Mona L. Exchange Club Has Merry Time At Club Dinner

It was a merry Christmas, indeed, at the Exchange Club dinner Tuesday night in Hotel Sequoia.

Not within the history of the club has there been a better stag affair, according to charter members of the service organization. Santa Claus distributed gifts which had been stacked under a brilliantly lighted tree, and the program ran an hour overtime before President James Eva struck the gong to indicate adjournment.

Layton Stone, former member of the University of California Glee Club, sang several solos, accompanying himself on the guitar.

Dennis Fox, son of Exchangite J. R. Fox, gave some tap dances, and solos were sung by Bryce Kincaid. There was much impromptu entertainment which added to the evening's gaiety.

The new Ohio state police will not be allowed to wear mustaches.

CWA Projects Are Approved

Board's Sanction Is Given Works to Cost $265,789

San Mateo county's second unit of the Civil Works Administration program as outlined by the county relief committee last Friday had been approved in its entirety by the board of supervisors today.

The program calls for 31 projects to cost $265,789.98. It will give 237,645 hours of employment.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, offered the only protest, attacking the Sand Hill road bridle trail in the Third Township. This will call for the expenditure of $3,732.

Witt said the bridle trail will be built on private property.

Supervisor John Poole, of the Third district, defended the proposal, saying it was to be constructed along the county road.

Witt voted "no" on this proposal, but approved the 30 other projects. The other supervisors approved the whole list of 31 projects.

James Files Report

County Engineer James S. James reported on a proposal made by Supervisor Witt for a School street lateral by saying that the projected road would give three parallel highways in that area.

He also said that the old rights of way presumed to be owned by the county are in an unsatisfactory alignment.

James informed the board that the planning commission has recommended a work relief project on part of the road from Junipero Serra to White street, but has advised against any work beyond White street to the Skyline until a title search has been made.

James' report only widened the breach between himself and Witt, who demanded that the project be submitted to County Manager Walter Kellogg for a report.

Brisbane Project

Jack Wheeler, representing Brisbane property owners, said that a proposed CWA project in that area has not been undertaken and accused James of advising against it.

Dr. C. V. Thompson, board chairman, contacted the county projects committee and learned that James had not made any recommendation one way or the other.

"I'm not drawing the CWA into politics," was James' reply, in declaring Wheeler's statements untrue.

in a brief safety campaign, but also permanently.

"First, violators do not like publicity. In my experience as a police officer, the biggest 'squawk' from drunken and reckless drivers comes when their names are printed as being arrested and sentenced for those offenses—offenses which we all know to be at the root of many tragic accidents.

"Publication by ordinance of the names of violators of traffic regulations ensures that all and strikes at the very root of 'tag fixing,' recognized as one of the evils that is hardest to attack. Fixers work under cover, and publication will remove that protective cover.

"Third, it backs up our officers and courts, because it will remove insidious outside pressure that is brought time and again to bear. Once a tag has been issued, not just some are given publicity.

"Second, enforced publication publication will be automatic, and it will carry through to the final disposition of the case.

"No tag can be slipped out and acted upon privately. I know from talking to some officers and judges that they would welcome such a plan as this because they feel it would relieve them of embarrassment.

"In publishing the list of violators, I suggest that the tag number, name, address, license number, charge and date of court appearance be included. The 'case' would be run again after disposition with the fact of sentence or dismissal added. Inclusion of the tag number assures that no tag will be omitted.

"The cost of publication (which would be for at least two times, once after the arrest and again after court appearance) would be not more than $1 for a 'case,' according to the information I can gather. This cost would be levied against the offender when he is sentenced. For instance, he might be sentenced to pay a $5 fine and costs, the latter being the cost of publication.

"I propose this plan as the simplest and most effective means of getting at this important phase of the traffic situation, that of law enforcement. I think that the Lions Club could do nothing better to inaugurate its safety campaign than by getting behind this plan and pushing it to adoption by the county supervisors and the various city councils of the county.

"With that thought in mind, I make a motion that the three attorneys in our club be appointed as a committee to draft a proposed sample ordinance that can be submitted to the various legislative bodies in the county for their consideration and, we hope, adoption."

Unanimously passed.

Pedestrian Is Fatally Hurt By Automobile

Another Victim Badly Injured in Local Accident

One pedestrian was killed and another was severely injured here Saturday night in two separate automobile accidents.

Stanley D. Mitchinson, 44, residing at 955 Arguello street, was fatally injured at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night as he attempted to cross Main street at Pine street.

The automobile was driven by John Boccalero, 35, of 804 Clinton street, who was proceeding south on Main street at the time. He told police that Mitchinson walked into the path of his car.

Mitchinson, who was a native of England and who served with the British Expeditionary Forces in the World War, was still alive when picked up from the street by the investigating officers, but died shortly after he reached the local emergency hospital.

The body was removed to the Layng & Tinney chapel, where Dr. J. C. McGovern, county coroner, will conduct an inquest. Officers J. A. Snider and E. G. Fogarty investigated.

Elderly Man Hurt

Joseph Smith, 62, local laborer, who resides at Cassia and Middlefield roads, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, multiple lacerations of the face and head, and severe shock, when struck by an automobile on Middlefield road at Cassia street, at 5:55 Saturday night.

The car was driven by Paul E. Gove, 20, of 1055 Second street, Mayfield, or 809 Alma street, Palo Alto.

Gove told Officers W. H. Thorpe, Henry Mengel and Harold Fitzgerald, who investigated for the police department, that he did not see the pedestrian. He was held on a charge of reckless driving and was released on $100 cash bail.

Smith was treated at the emergency hospital and removed to the Community Hospital.

$101,300 SUIT LOST

Railway Successfully Contests Circus Man's Claims

His suit for $101,300 against the Market Street Railway Company was lost here last Friday afternoon by Robert A. Moore, circus ringmaster, when a jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The case was tried before Superior Judge Franklin Swart and occupied several days. Moore claimed that he incurred permanent injuries when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Market Street car in South San Francisco.

Edw. Hanson Succumbs At Home In R. C.

Edward Marcus Hanson, Redwood City pioneer, passed away on Saturday at his home, 1227 Arguello street, following a long illness. He was a native of South Boston, Massachusetts, and was 78 years of age. He has lived here for the past 50 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanson; and two sons, Frank E. Hanson, a fireman, and Harry M. Hanson, postal employe.

Thompson to Seek Courthouse Ext'n

Dr. C. V. Thompson, chairman of the board of supervisors, was officially named today by the board to make San Mateo county's appeal for public works administration funds for new projected additions to the courthouse, new county office building, and poor farm addition.

The three proposals have been submitted to the federal government and were among the first projects considered. No decision has yet been received, and the naming of Dr. Thompson is another of the formalities required.

The court house additions would cost $169,092; the office building, $180,893, and the poor farm additions, $29,366.

Will of Amphlett Is Probated Here

The will of Horace W. Amphlett, late San Mateo publisher, who died November 29, was admitted to probate Monday by Superior Judge Franklin Swart.

Bradford Melvin, San Francisco attorney and friend, was appointed executor under the terms of the will. Ross & Ross represented the petitioner. Amphlett's estate consists principally of stock in the San Mateo Times.

Contract Signed For Reservoir At Emerald Lake

Signing of the contract for the $19,696 concrete reservoir in the Emerald Lake water system marked the meeting of the city council last night. W. J. Tobin is the contractor and the federal government is putting up part of the money. Bids were opened December 4.

The council appropriated $250 for charity relief purposes.

There was a discussion concerning the sale of Cnristmas trees and greens by other than established merchants. The plan to charge a high fee in order to discourage peddlers was debated, following protests.

L. E. Werder presented a plan for consideration of the council, which called for a community of 391 homes on 100 acres of the Horgan ranch, near Woodside road.

The plan involves proposed federal assistance under the national housing plan.

WILL MEET SATURDAY

Guisti Sobs

She declined. He asked her if she loved him and she said she was not so sure now, according to Guisti. He came to see her yesterday for a final decision one way or the other. If she loved him, he would spare himself. If she did not, he would kill himself at her feet.

She refused a definite answer, and when he said she could not go to New York she said:

"I'll do what I please—" and ran from the room. Then came the sudden moment when he forgot what he was doing—when he turned the gun that he intended for himself at the fleeing girl.

That is the story that Guisti told Scott amid punctuations of sobs.

Guisti, Scott said, would be charged with first degree murder in a complaint to be sworn to by Chief Belloni before Justice Edward Farrell.
